THE UNIVERSITY OF CHICAGO GRAHAM SCHOOL OF GENERAL STUDIES

1999 SYMPOSIUM

Welcome

Hugo F. Sonnenschein, President, The University of Chicago

Hugo F. Sonnenschein assumed his duties as the eleventh president of The University of Chicago July 1, 1993. Mr. Sonnenschein, a macroeconomic theorist whose research has focused on general equilibrium and game theory, was named provost at Princeton University in 1991 after serving since 1988 as dean of the School of Arts and Sciences at the University of Pennsylvania. He received his A.B. from the University of Rochester and his M.A. and Ph.D. from Purdue University. Mr. Sonnenschein has taught at the Universities of Minnesota, Massachusetts, Northwestern, and Princeton. He has been a visiting professor at universities in the United States, Israel, France, and Colombia. Mr. Sonnenschein is a member of the National Academy of Sciences, a fellow of the American Academy of Arts and Sciences, and a fellow of the Econometric Society. He has been awarded fellowships by the Guggenheim Foundation, the Ford Foundation, and the Social Science Research Council.

Chicago: Forging Partnerships for the 21st Century

Rita R. Athas, Director of Regional Programs, Office of the Mayor, City of Chicago

Rita R. Athas began the newly created position of Director of Regional Programs in February of 1997. Prior to her appointment, she served as Executive Director of the Northwest Municipal Conference, a regional association of forty local governments representing a combined population of over one million northern Cook, Lake, and DuPage County residents. Ms. Athas has also served a number of local governments including the village of Hanover Park as Community Development Director, and the village of Streamwood as Assistant Manager. She received a bachelor of arts in political science and urban studies from Elmhurst College and a masters degree in public administration from Northern Illinois University.

The Federal Reserve and Community Development: Fostering Neighborhood Partnerships

Michael H. Moskow, President and Chief Executive Officer, Federal Reserve Bank of Chicago

Michael H. Moskow took office on September 1, 1994, as the eighth president and chief executive officer of the Federal Reserve Bank of Chicago. In this role, he serves on the Federal Open Market Committee, the Federal Reserve System's most important monetary policymaking body. He began his career teaching economics, labor relations, and management at Temple University, Lafayette College, and Drexel University. From 1969 to 1977, he held a number of senior positions with the U.S. government, including undersecretary of labor at the U.S. Department of Labor, director of the Council on Wage and Price Stability, assistant secretary for policy development and research at the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development, and senior staff economist with the Council of Economic Advisors. In 1977, Mr. Moskow joined the private sector at Esmark, Inc. in Chicago and later held senior management positions at Northwest Industries, Dart and Kraft, Inc., and Premark International, Inc., a spin-off from Dart and Kraft. In 1991, President Bush appointed Mr. Moskow Deputy United States Trade Representative, with the rank of ambassador.

Chicago's Cultural Revolution

Maggie Daley, First Lady of the City of Chicago; Chairman, Chicago Cultural Center Foundation; President, Pathways Awareness Foundation; Chair, Gallery 37

Maggie Daley has many important roles in addition to being the First Lady of the City of Chicago. She is president of Pathways Awareness Foundation, whose mission is to heighten public and professional awareness about early detection, early intervention, and inclusion of children with physical disabilities into their schools and communities. She created and serves as chair of Gallery 37, an innovative approach to youth employment which incorporates arts education and collaborative public/private partnerships to provide meaningful work and a creative educational experience for Chicago's young people. Her numerous civic activities include chairing the Chicago Cultural Center Foundation.

The Architecture of Urban Life

John F. Hartray, Jr., FAIA, Vice President, Nagle Hartray Danker Kagan McKay

A native Chicagoan, John F. Hartray received a Bachelor of Architecture from Cornell University in 1954. This was followed by service in the Army and then employment with SOM, Holabird and Root, Naess and Murphy, and Harry Weese and Associates. He managed the Newberry Library remodeling; the restoration of the Auditorium Theatre, the Time Life Building, and the Campbell Correction Center; and organized the management system employed in the design of the Washington D.C. Metro Subway. Since joining NHDKM in 1977, Mr. Hartray has served as technical principal on all of the firm's large-scale and complex projects including the new WBEZ studios at Navy Pier, the Greyhound Bus Terminal, the Evanston Public Library, Harpo Studios, and Montgomery Place Senior Housing.

Bronzeville: Realities of Past and Present

Studs Terkel, Oral Historian, Chicago Historical Society

Aptly described on the WFMT personnel roster as the station's "free spirit," Studs Terkel revels in life. He has, since graduating from the University of Chicago Law School in 1934, been a civil service employee, stage, radio, and movie actor, playwright, jazz columnist, disc jockey, panel moderator, lecturer, film narrator, music festival host, radio news commentator and sportscaster, network television personality, and Pulitzer Prize-winning author. For more than forty years he has been heard on Chicago's fine arts radio station, WFMT, where each weekday evening he hosts "The Studs Terkel Show." The best of these programs is also syndicated nationally over the WFMT Ideas Network. His radio programs have been honored with the Prix Italia, three Ohio State Awards, three Major Armstrong Awards, and the prestigious Peabody Award for excellence in broadcasting.

Timuel E. Black, Professor Emeritus, City Colleges of Chicago

Timuel E. Black, who earned a master of arts from the University of Chicago in 1954, has been an active leader in Chicago's African-American community for over forty years, along with teaching extensively in the City Colleges of Chicago. His family moved to Chicago from Birmingham as a child, and he has lived in Hyde Park since 1952. Mr. Black has been actively involved in many civic and community organizations including the Mayor's Commission on Racial and Ethnic Affairs, the National Committee Against Repressive Legislation, the Chicago Committee to Defend The Bill of Rights, the First Congressional District Educational Task Force, and the City Club of Chicago. He has also received numerous awards including the Man from Chicago Award (Partners in Community Development), Man for All Seasons Award (Black Faculty in Higher Education), Civil Libertarian Award, and the Chicago Urban League's "Beautiful People Award."

Ravinia Festival Jazz in the Schools Mentor and Scholar Ensemble

The Jazz in the Schools Mentor Program is a model educational partnership between the Chicago Public Schools and Ravinia Festival. The partnership pairs students in ten Chicago public high schools with accomplished musicians to supplement the existing curriculum and foster the traditions of jazz performance in a new generation of musicians. The first program of its kind, this unique educational outreach effort was initiated in 1995 by Ravinia Executive Director Zarin Mehta and spearheaded by Jazz at Ravinia Artistic Director Ramsey Lewis and Jazz Coordinator Penny Tyler along with Chicago Public Schools Instrumental Specialist William Johnson.
