Exploring Our City for 68 Years

The Know Your Chicago Committee takes great pleasure in welcoming you to our 68th season of civic engagement with the Chicago community. Founded in 1948 by Mary Ward Wolkonsky, Know Your Chicago seeks to provide Chicagoans with insight into the forces and institutions that shape our city, so that we might be more active and engaged citizens.

The season begins with a day-long Symposium at Ida Noyes Hall on the University of Chicago Hyde Park campus. Each year, our speakers address important issues related to the season's Tours and topics.

Over the years, programs have explored a wide range of issues, including: brain research, invasive species in Chicago's waters, the poetry scene from salons to slams, a recent manufacturing renaissance, being transgender, the vibrant contemporary art culture, and planning for Chicago's 21st century. The Symposium and Tours are researched, planned, and implemented by the Know Your Chicago Committee, which reflects a broad range of communities, organizations, and perspectives.

Visit our website at knowyourchicago.org to register for Tours, keep current with the latest KYC news, access historical information on the organization and past Tours, and view frequently asked questions.

Welcome to our 68th season!

Know Your Chicago 2016 Symposium

Join us for a day of presentations on some of Chicago's cultural and medical highlights, as well as some of the most urgent social concerns of our time. The Know Your Chicago Symposium, the official beginning of the annual Tour series, brings together five prestigious speakers who address important issues related to the season's Tours. 2016 Tours include Navy Pier's exciting transformation at 100, the Chicago Public Library's dynamic new programs and partnerships, an exploration of integrative medicine, from dope to hope on the heroin highway, and police training and its critical role in community life. The information presented at the Symposium complements, but is distinct from, that presented on the Tours. Whether you're joining us for all of the Tours, or want to attend only the Symposium, we're sure you'll find the talks valuable and the speakers engaging.

NOTE: Symposium registration is required for Tour registration until September 7 or until the Symposium sells out, whichever happens first.

Navy Pier at 100: Reimagining the People's Pier

What Chicago landmark has served as a naval base, a prison, a state university, a welcome center for immigrants, and now the 9th largest tourist destination in the world? As Navy Pier turns 100, let's toast this remarkable Chicago landmark, appreciate its rich history, and celebrate its Centennial Vision and exciting physical transformation. We'll tour the Pier inside and out, including the splendid new Pierscape by New York City's High Line landscape designer James Corner. Join us to visit the reimagined Navy Pier!

Travel in style from our meeting point to the tour site in Navy Pier's colorful trolleys for a day of fun and "insider" touring.

Discover exciting new plans for The Yard at Chicago Shakespeare, an innovative space that can be re-configured for audiences of 150 to 850. Slip on a hard-hat for a sneak peek at the construction site.

Experience the thrill of being among the first to ride the new Centennial Wheel. Take in an unparalleled view of the city from glass-enclosed all-weather cars, followed by a behind-the-scenes look at Ferris wheel operations with the Pier's Chief Operating Officer.

Dine en plein air as we enjoy lunch aboard Entertainment Cruises' newest privately chartered yacht, the beautiful Elite.

Be entertained by a theatrical performance featuring local Chicago artists in brand-new Polk Bros Park next to the spectacular 250-jet programmable fountain.

By day's end, you'll have a whole new perspective on Chicago's peerless Pier!

East Meets West in Medicine: Collision or Coalition

Alternative medicine isn't any more—alternative, that is. Embraced by an ever-growing number of hospitals, it has been renamed integrative medicine. Many doctors now endorse acupuncture, massage therapy, and other treatments once shunned by mainstream medical practitioners. The esteemed National Institutes of Health has a National Center for Complementary and Integrative Health. Even marijuana, once used all over the ancient world but banned in the 20th century, is increasingly prescribed to treat epilepsy and to counter the side effects of chemotherapy. Skeptics and believers alike, join us as we:

Discover why doctors are adopting practices they once scorned.

Visit a leading college of Oriental medicine to learn about the curriculum and the process of certification and professional licensing.

Observe demonstrations of shiatsu, acupuncture, chiropractic, Tui Na massage and other complementary interventions.

Watch a Chinese herbalist create a basic formula to treat the common cold.

Stretch your limbs and minds while participating in a Qi Gong exercise class.

Enjoy lunch at a lively Chinese restaurant.

Hear a medical marijuana (cannabis) expert from Chicago's first dispensary explain methods of growing and compounding cannabis, the variety of ways it is consumed and the impressive results experienced by patients.

Examine the State of Illinois pilot program for medical marijuana and learn about the legal issues confronting medical marijuana providers as they seek to cover more illnesses and conditions, address the community's ethical concerns and spar with the legislature.

Heroin HIGHway: Road to Recovery

Cheap, powerful and easy to score, heroin is ravaging the nation, and America's high schools, colleges and suburbs are its battlefield. No longer a drug exclusive to junkies, its victims live and work on Chicago's Gold Coast, its suburbs and in rural communities. The first high may begin with prescription painkillers or pilfered pills from a medicine cabinet, triggering a relentless pursuit to again hit that initial rush. Every 19 minutes someone dies from an opioid overdose, now the leading cause of unintentional death in America, affecting ordinary folks and superstars alike. Yet hope exists.

Follow the "heroin highway" from poppy fields to Chicago, gaining an understanding of border security issues and economics implicit in the drug trade. Learn how the drug is "cut" with other substances and processed for sale on the streets.

Understand the physiology of addiction and how changes in the brain make withdrawal painful and difficult.

Discover how local police departments are innovating to use education, social service partnerships and enforcement to prosecute dealers and help those with addiction problems into treatment. A new approach eschews prosecution in favor of supporting low-level offenders through recovery programs.

Hear those who've struggled through addiction, along with their families, discuss their journeys into recovery. View an interactive display showing how to spot signs of substance abuse.

Visit a treatment center and learn how recovery programs are structured to meet the needs of individuals. Discover resources that provide support through relapse, recovery and re-entry into a sober life.

Architects of Global Knowledge

What do Bill Gates, Benjamin Franklin, and Queen Victoria have in common? The Chicago Public Library! Rich in history, drama and celebrities, CPL is internationally acclaimed as America's most prestigious urban library system. Investigate how CPL—with its 80 branches—responds to tech-driven, communications-dependent learning opportunities for every age. Visit the crown jewel of Franklin's invention, "The People's University," constantly stimulating and expanding intellectual curiosity and community engagement, and collaborating with impressive civic, philanthropic, and culturally diverse partnerships.

View the Harold Washington Library Center through a dynamic new lens. Hear compelling historic and future visions presented by CPL and CPL Foundation leadership, including the "Thirty Million Words" project, other early childhood literacy initiatives, and the Bill and Melinda Gates Foundation's first-of-its-kind grant for twenty-first century challenges.

Savor Special Collections' rare treasures, including Queen Victoria's presentation book after the Great Chicago Fire, Mayor Harold Washington's Archives, and a Civil War saddle of distinction.

Be a Teen! "Hang out, mess around, geek out," with hands-on technology experiments. Share the passion of turning new media and 3-D printing into educational and economic value.

Be a Tot! Experience literacy strategies: "Talk, Sing, Read, Write, Play."

Mingle with CPL and CPL Foundation dignitaries and Chicago authors. Lunch in a cozy Library spot.

Tour the new architectural gem, Chinatown Branch Library. Guided by Skidmore, Owings & Merrill's design architect and an architectural critic, admire this award-winning structure. Enjoy fun and substance with a Teen-centered Librarian. Delight in early childhood literacy spaces. Browse the sophisticated Chinese Heritage Collection in this elegant, community-engaged library.

21st Century Policing

Law enforcement is in crisis across the nation. This is especially true in Chicago, where incidents of excessive force and the public's response have drawn national attention. The mayor has appointed a Police Accountability Task Force and a U.S. Department of Justice investigation is underway. Can leadership by city officials and an engaged, informed citizenry bring about change, resulting in improved public trust and safety? While there is no quick fix, best practices in policing do exist and incremental steps could lead to transparency, respectful engagement, and accountability. Spend a day with law enforcement leaders to better understand this critical civic issue.

Visit the Suburban Law Enforcement Academy, a new state-of-the-art police training facility in Glen Ellyn, where we will experience a day in the life of a cadet. Classes include de-escalating stressful situations, procedural justice and cultural diversity. Understand the impact of technology, such as body cameras, Tasers and cell phone videos on modern policing.

Engage with an expert panel who will examine the recommendations of the Police Accountability Task Force, discussing how we can move forward to resolve this crisis and to improve police-community relations. The panel discussion takes place downtown at the newly renovated Chicago Office of Emergency Management and Communications, (OEMC).

NOTE: When registering for this tour, per OEMC requirements, all participants must provide date of birth. Non U.S. citizens must also provide passport information.

Option to Tour the OEMC 911 Center (add one hour, day ends at 4:45 pm).

WAYS TO REGISTER FOR SYMPOSIUM AND TOURS

Easy online registration: Register at knowyourchicago.org.

Online registrations will be processed immediately and you will know instantly which tours you are registered to attend.

Register with a friend: One of your friends may register you online or you may register one (or more) of your friends online.

Register by phone: Call 773.702.1727. You cannot register more than one person by phone. We encourage online registration; if not possible, you may call.

Symposium registration is required for Tour registration until September 7, or until the Symposium sells out, whichever happens first.

NEW | TRANSPORTATION

Buses are provided for both the Symposium and the Tours. Participants board buses on the north curb of Adams between Canal and Clinton.

For the Symposium, participants are urged to ride the bus since valet parking at the University is limited. For the Tours, participants are required to board the bus downtown and remain with that bus throughout the day. At the end of the Tour, participants are free to return home on their own rather than returning to the Clinton Street drop-off site. Buses depart promptly at the time specified; Tours operate on tight schedules and bus departure cannot be delayed.

DISABILITIES

Tours may involve a considerable amount of walking, standing, and/or stairs. Please consult the walking guide accompanying each tour description for an indication of the difficulty of each tour. Walking shoes are always recommended.

NON-DISCRIMINATION STATEMENT

In keeping with its long-standing traditions and policies, the University of Chicago considers students, employees, applicants for admission or employment, and those seeking access to University programs on the basis of individual merit. The University does not discriminate on the basis of race, color, religion, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, national or ethnic origin, age, status as an individual with a disability, protected veteran status, genetic information, or other protected classes as required by law (including Title IX of the Education Amendments of 1972). For additional information regarding the University of Chicago's Policy on Harassment, Discrimination, and Sexual Misconduct, please see: harassmentpolicy.uchicago.edu/page/policy. The University official responsible for coordinating compliance with this Notice of Nondiscrimination is Sarah Wake, Assistant Provost and Director of the Office for Equal Opportunity Programs. Ms. Wake also serves as the University's Title IX Coordinator, Affirmative Action Officer, and Section 504/ADA Coordinator. You may contact Ms. Wake by emailing swake@uchicago.edu, by calling 773.702.5671, or by writing to Sarah Wake, Office of the Provost, The University of Chicago, 5801 S. Ellis Ave., Suite 510, Chicago, IL, 60637. Attn: Provost, The University of Chicago.

ACCOMMODATIONS

Participants registered for Know Your Chicago who have a disability and believe that they may need assistance should contact Bridget Collier, Dean of Students at 773.702.2047 or bcollier@uchicago.edu in advance of the event.
